

OF PENDING

Correspondence Authors : Dibakar Pal

Affiliation: PhD Student, University of Calcutta, India

7A/2/1/1, SRINATH CHAKRABARTY LANE KOLKATA – 700 035 INDIA

E-mail: dibakarpal786@gmail.com

Phone: +919475692461(Mobile)

---

Received Date 06/01/2021 , Accepted 25/02/2021 , Published Date 01/03/2021

---

ABSTRACT

Everybody wants to marry early. He who cannot finish his pending works in time marries late. They say late marriage is a risky game. Wife may be a luggage. In fact wife is not a luggage rather more useful at old age in comparison with early life. Man gradually begins to realize this very truth when he reaches the autumn of life. As such every man is well advised not to keep his marriages pending. They say better late than never.

---

INTRODUCTION

Creative writing is based more on manifestation rather than on expression. It does not inform, rather it reveals. So it bears no reference. The best creative writing is critical, and the best critical writing is creative. This article is an outcome of thinking about creative writing meant for a general readership. As such, I have adopted a free style methodology so that everyone can enjoy the pleasure of reading. As you might know, Francis Bacon (1561-1626), the immortal essayist, wrote many essays namely 'Of Love', 'Of Friendship', 'Of Ambition', 'Of Studies', and so on. The multiple-minded genius correctly pointed out that all the words of the dictionary can be used as themes for essays. But little has been done since his death to continue or finish his monumental task. Bacon's unique individual style of presentation ignited my imagination and encouraged me to write creative essays as a method of relieving a wide range of emotions through catharsis.

ARTICLE

Pending means waiting to be done or decided. It is about to happen or waiting to happen. It is until something happens. It is remaining undecided. It is awaiting decision or settlement. It is unfinished e.g., pending business, pending questions, pending litigation. Thus pending is about to take place.

It is used to say that one thing must wait until another thing happens. It is waiting to be decided or approved. It is while awaiting. It is in the period before the decision or conclusion of. It is while waiting for or anticipating something. For example: He's in jail pending a trial.

It is not yet decided, confirmed, or finished. It is imminent. It is being in continuance. It is impending. It is happening or likely to happen soon. It is in the time preceding. It is to occur or be realized soon.

It is not decided, determined, or established e.g., a pending lawsuit, patent pending. It is throughout the course or process of. It is during the time of e.g., pending the review. It is until after e.g., pending his arrival.

Pending causes tension for its suspense. It pleases. It perplexes. It perishes as well. Hardly can anyone speculate its movement. Everybody dislikes it. But none can avoid it.

Someone keeps something pending for want of instruction. Someone keeps something pending for not realizing the next course of action. Someone keeps pending for better option. Someone keeps pending to wait and see. Someone keeps pending to gauge the situation. Someone keeps pending and last of all cancels the whole project due to lack of feasibility.

Again someone keeps pending for evil motive. Someone keeps pending to befool others. Someone keeps pending for long so that interested persons lose hope and leave it and he occupies it. Someone starts knowing fully well the impossibility of the project and keeps pending with the sole intention to cheat and earn. These are the said and unsaid facts and fabrications of pending. These are the told and untold factors of pending. Everybody willy-nilly uses it, enjoys it and experiences the pain of it infinite times from cradle to coffin.

Someone keeps nothing pending. Someone keeps pending intentionally. Again, someone cannot finish due to incapability. Only a blessed soul can finish and a cursed soul cannot. A judicious person waits for a certain period of time for the pending decision. If the pending decision is completed within that dead line he avails the opportunity otherwise leaves it. He seldom cares for the loss or gain. He relies on firm decision. The learned contends that right time lunch at noon is far better than grand lunch of the afternoon.

In case of inter related jobs pending of single one jeopardizes the whole stream. Here parallel works are not possible. The first job is the input of second job. The outcome of second job is the input of the third one and so on.

If a lover has so many lovers and cannot decide the right choice then he either keeps everybody pending or leaves or frees all. Obviously the second option is better. Pending decision thereby waiting of lover is really a heart breaking experience. A genuine love waits. If the fiancé dies then she wants to meet him in his next birth.

A wise looks before he leaps. The learned first judges the feasibility then either starts or rejects the matter. He likes not to keep anything pending. He likes not to harass or be harassed for the cause of pending. Thus he wants not to be a dog in the manger.

A student starts to write the answer and in the midway keeps the answer pending since he either has forgotten the next points or does not know at all the complete answer. A student attempts such an incomplete answer for getting little marks or credit as is considered by the examiner.

Incomplete answer also may be for lack of time in the examination. A bad student starts to write but cannot finish for want of time. A good student, if the time is short, writes the main points only to finish it in time. Through tact he conquers pending. Here time management is the crucial factor known only to a good student. In fact a good student does not write different thing, he writes differently.

Where time is the crucial factor then late arrival is of no use at all. Something is better than nothing is applicable where time factor is not important.

Everybody wants to marry early. He who cannot finish his pending works in time marries late. They say late marriage is a risky game. Wife may be a luggage. In fact wife is not a luggage rather more useful at old age in comparison with early life. Man gradually begins to realize this very truth when he reaches the autumn of life. As such every man is well advised not to keep his marriages pending. They say better late than never.

Someone enjoys pending. Someone calls it pain. It is more enjoyable the imminent pending festival rather than enjoying the duration of festival itself. The festival being happy moments vanishes early.

Pending is a common matter. Someone can finish his daily works daily. Someone cannot. Only a judicious person who is quite calculative in nature can finish the target job in time. It is really an art. All is not artist. This answers why we notice few successful persons around us who can finish their assigned job in time and rest of the world is infested with so much callous persons.

A wise can tackle time. A fool cannot. Rather time tackles the fool. Time consciousness determines the rise and downfall of any person. As such they say time is money.

Everybody wants to finish his unfinished works before death. But none can finish it. In this regard both wise and fool are equal and at par.

Every man dies keeping his works pending. There is not a single man who died after doing all of his works as per his desire or assigned job or both. In this regard both early death and late death are equivalent. The more desire the more pending. In early life desire is less pending is less. As man grows desires also grow proportionately. So higher age means higher proportionate pending. Here almost finished work pains us much in comparison with an untouched works.

An optimist has much hope. So his agenda is much long. A pessimist has no hope. So his agenda is nil. As such only a pessimist dies without any pending works. He has no pending works both before his birth or after his death.

Great men appear just to rescue the ailing humanity. They do hurriedly since they know that time is short but art is long. The paradox is that doing so hurriedly they depart with many works unfinished even. But their appearance ignites the revolution.

Someone believes in "Do it now" policy. He keeps nothing pending. Someone has no such aim. He either does not or cannot finish the assigned job. He finishes if he likes. He finishes not if he likes not. Every day's pending becomes an enormous pending in course of time. This becomes a Himalayan headache to that callous person. He has to carry this luggage till he breaths his last.

CONCLUSION

Lawsuit is the largest inventory of pending in the world. Civil matter is the highest headache to the civic society. It is manmade criticality in the name of 'opportunity of being heard'. They say law means cost, delay and last of all glorious uncertainty. Here lies the uniqueness of pending.

REFERENCES

No reference, since the present article is an outcome of Creative Writing